A Special Welcome to all our guests and friends.

We welcome you this morning to our church! If you are looking for a church home in this area, we would like to invite you to make Bourbon your church family.

Please Take Note:

It has been decided that the rotation of members who clean the church will change to once a month starting in March. One general cleaning during the month will be fine with spot cleaning and checking the remainder of the month. The Joe Meek family will continue to clean through the month of March.

Speaker next week: Linda Meek

March 7 will be a high day for Araina Markham. She will be baptized into the fellowship of the Bourbon Seventh-day Adventist Church. As a result, the monthly fellowship dinner will be delayed until that Sabbath. Please join her in the celebration of this day.

This true incident from an English school teacher's lips shows how a boy can be both high-minded and unselfish for the sake of another.

Jamie Pettigrew and Willie Hunter were the clever boys in Mr. Howatt's school class, and used to run neck and neck for the prizes. Examination day came again, Jamie and Willie were left last in the field. Jamie missed question after question, which Willie answered and got the prize.

Says Mr. Howatt, "I went home with Jamie that night, and instead of being cast down at losing the prize he seemed rather to be glad. I could not understand it.

"Why, Jamie," I said, "you could have answered some of those questions. I know you could."

"Of course I could!" he said with a laugh.

"Then why didn't you?" I asked.

"He wouldn't answer for a while; but I kept pressing and pressing him till at last he turned round with such a strange, kind look in his bonnie brown eyes.

"Look here," he said; "how could I help it? There's poor Willie's mother died last week, and if it hadn't been examination day, he wouldn't have been at school. Do you think I was going to be so mean as to take a prize from a poor fellow who had just lost his mother?"

Bravo, my lad! A good speech that; and second was a good place, if not the noblest of any, in all the school that day. Sunday School Advocate, Signs of the Times, February 26, 1902.
